Scripture Reading

Hebrews 11:1-6

Now faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen. For by it the people of old received their commendation. By faith we understand that the universe was created by the word of God, so that what is seen was not made out of things that are visible. By faith Abel offered to God a more acceptable sacrifice than Cain, through which he was commended as righteous, God commending him by accepting his gifts. And through his faith, though he died, he still speaks. By faith Enoch was taken up so that he should not see death, and he was not found, because God had taken him. Now before he was taken he was commended as having pleased God. And without faith it is impossible to please him, for whoever would draw near to God must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who seek him.

Communion Confession of Sin

Almighty and holy God,

Your love for justice delights our hearts. If you were not a just and holy God, this world, which you created and govern down to the most microscopic detail, would be unbearable to live in. However, we also admit that your love for justice terrifies our souls.

All: If we were to count the sins that we have committed only today, we know that we would deserve your great anger and punishment.

We have entertained evil thoughts toward others and have preferred ourselves and our favorite people over those who are outcasts in need of our love and care.

All: We have made little of our sins, excusing them and even using your great forgiveness as a way of avoiding your commands.

We have wearied you by laughing over evil things that we ought to hate. We have grieved you by hating good things and calling them evil, simply because they bore us or make us feel uncomfortable. Father, we deserve your judgment.

All: Lord have mercy on us.

Holy Spirit, there is nothing we can do to satisfy God's justice. If even our best acts are like filthy rags, then we need the goodness of Jesus to cover us just as much on our best days as on our worst days.

All: Remind us often that the blood of Christ erases our sin, and that God speaks to us in love, not in exasperation and disappointment.

Ignite our hearts with a fiery gratitude that compels us to adore our Savior and to love what he calls good.

All: Fill our hearts with your astonishing love, and send us out into a hurting world to love the fatherless, the widow, the strange, and the awkward, in the name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Amen.
